FACTORY LOOT
IN MANCHURIA
IS NOT LEGALMOSCOW IS REBUKED
FOR REMOVING JAP
MACHINERY

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, March 1 (AP)—In a speedy development of Secretary Byrnes' new policy of plain speaking, the state department declared today that Russia had no right under any Allied agreement to remove industrial equipment from former Japanese-held Manchuria.

The action appeared tantamount to a rebuke to Russia. A Soviet commander had announced at Mukden earlier this week that machinery had been removed in accordance with what he called a big-three agreement, though he said he could not remember when or where it was made.

The department's statement came close on the heels of Byrnes' speech in New York last night in which he declared that "no power had a right to help itself to such property prior to a reparations pact among the interested Allied nations."

Iran Is Trouble Spot
The development came in the midst of increasing uncertainties in Anglo-American relations brought about by two new disclosures concerning Soviet activities in Iran and China. Officials considered it probable that the United States would send a protest to Moscow over the Iranian situation.

These were the developments concerned:

1. Russian troops began a partial withdrawal from Iran to meet tomorrow's deadline, but Moscow announced that Red Army forces will remain in the northernmost area of the country, which has been torn by civil strife. The United States position has been that all Russian troops should be withdrawn at once. Diplomatic authorities said it was reasonable to expect blunt American objection to the Soviet policy.

2. It was learned here from official sources that two Russian fighter planes fired upon a United States Navy patrol plane off the coast of China about Feb. 20 after the craft flew low over an airbase in the Soviet fortified zone at Port Arthur. None of the eight crew members was injured, though the plane was reported damaged.

Both the Iranian affair, which is considered of major importance, and the China incident, however, took on special significance in the light of Secretary of State Byrnes' speech in New York last night which was widely interpreted in Washington as laying the basis for a very firm policy in American dealings with Russia from now on.

Other Troops Out
One possibility is that if Russian forces remain for very many more weeks in any part of Iran the situation may again be brought before the United Nations Security Council, which is scheduled to open sessions in New York on March 21.

Iran's main complaint was that Russian troops had violated Iran's independence by preventing the movement of Iranian reinforcements into Azerbaijan province to put down a revolt. Russia favored the revolt which succeeded in setting up an autonomous government for Azerbaijan.

It is in this same area that Moscow announced Russian troops will remain "until the clearance of the situation." Meanwhile indications were that the British were withdrawing the last of their 3,000 troops from Iran into Iraq.

American troops were cleared out in December.

Senate Won't O. K.
Pauley, Democratic
Leaders Are Told

Washington, March 1 (AP)—A Senate official said today Senate Democratic leaders had informed Chairman Robert E. Hannegan that Edwin W. Pauley could not win Senate confirmation as undersecretary of the Navy.

The official, whose name cannot be used, made the report after Hannegan, Attorney General Tom Clark, and Sam O'Neal, publicity chief for the national committee, conferred with Senate party leaders on Capitol Hill.

He said the party officials were informed again that there was no chance for Pauley's confirmation.

Washington, March 1 (AP)—E. G. Starr, Los Angeles oil man, told senators today that Edwin W. Pauley either acted as "a spy" for major oil interests or "sold out" on independent producers by switching his stand in a 1939 California oil law referendum.

He told the Senate naval affairs committee that which Paul Pauley played depends on the date when the deal for sale of his Petrol Corporation's assets to Standard Oil Company of California was worked out.

The witness, president of the Universal Consolidated Oil company, testified in connection with Pauley's nomination as undersecretary of the Navy.

He brought up the previous testimony of John A. Smith, another independent west coast oil operator, that Pauley suddenly deserted the independents who had been fighting the oil control bill and began siding in with the Standard Oil Company of California and

Striking GE Workers
Dispersed At Plant
In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, March 1 (AP)—A police ban on parading today halted violence-marked mass demonstrations by striking General Electric Company workers.

More than 200 strikers, gathered outside city limits in Delaware county several blocks from the GE plant, dispersed after the order was announced over patrol car loudspeakers. They filtered quietly back to Philadelphia in groups of twos and threes.

In Bloomfield, N. J., Sheriff William M. Butler invoked the state's rarely-used riot act to disperse 1,000 pickets from a Westinghouse Electric Corporation plant. GE and Westinghouse have been strikebound since Jan. 15 in a CIO-Electrical Workers Union walkout over demands for a $2-a-day wage boost.

The sheriff led a posse of 144 officers, carrying nightsticks and tear gas to break up the picketing.

other large petroleum companies. Pauley has denied that he made a switch.

After Starr's testimony Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) adjourned the inquiry until next Wednesday amid indications that Democratic leaders expect a withdrawal move then.

Walsh announced that additional time was needed for committee members to read the record of testimony and for Pauley to prepare any statement he may wish to make then.

But the nominee, indicating he had no withdrawal plans, told reporters that he was prepared to begin presentation of his side of the case then, adding that it might take "two or three weeks."

STEEL PRODUCT
PRICES BOOSTED

Increase Of $2 To $12
A Ton To Offset New
Wage Schedule

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The OPA tonight announced price increases ranging from $2 to $12 a ton for all basic steel products.

The agency said that the new price schedule met terms of the government's Feb. 15 directive which authorized an average price hike of $5 a ton for total output of basic carbon and alloy steel products.

The higher prices, retroactive to Feb. 15 under provisions of the original directive, are being granted to offset a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour in the steel industry.

OPA said that the price adjustments meant an increase of 8.2 percent in the average price of all steel. The new average price of all steel, both carbon and alloy, is $65.92 a ton, as compared with $60.92 previously.

OPA gave no indication of what effect the higher prices for basic steel would have on prices for consumer goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines.

It said that the degree of absorption of higher steel costs that would be required of producers and distributors of consumer goods, machinery and building materials was being worked out, and would be "announced at a later date."

Son Of Will Rogers
To Run For Senate

Los Angeles, March 1 (AP)—Will Rogers Jr., Beverly Hills newspaper publisher and son of the late humorist, today filed his declaration of candidacy for nomination for United States Senator from California on both Democratic and Republican tickets.

Rogers, former Democratic Congressman, resigned to enlist in the Army and he served overseas.

TRUMAN PUSHES
HOME BUILDING

Last-Minute Plea Made
To Save His Housing
Program

Washington, March 1 (AP)—President Truman rushed a last-minute plea to the house today in an effort to save vital phases of his housing program.

It arrived too late to affect the decision on price ceilings for existing houses. Just minutes before, the house overwhelmingly voted down this feature, 154 to 68.

But the president's chief concern was the plan for $600,000,000 of government subsidies to promote the manufacture of building materials where necessary.

His message to Speaker Rayburn asserted that legislative authority is needed for these payments. Opponents have contended that the government already has the authority under wartime laws.

Mr. Truman declared that the housing measure is not a party issue, "it is an American issue."

The plan for price ceilings on existing houses which the house defeated would have permitted those who own them now to sell them for any price they could get. But that price then would become the ceiling in event of subsequent resales.

Opponents contended that such a law would drive real estate sales into the black market. Proponents, led by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), contended it was needed to halt speculation.

Iron Ore Miners
Talk Over Strike

Duluth, Minn., March 1 (AP)—Problems concerning the strike of 18,000 iron ore mine workers in Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, will be discussed next Tuesday at a conference in Duluth, it was announced today.

Henry A. Burkhammer, Duluth, district director of the CIO-United Steelworkers Union, said at least two delegates from each of the union's 107 local in the Lake Superior district will attend the conference. Action will be taken on the policy of the union relative to problems brought about by the areawide strike.

Efforts to settle the dispute have been delayed because there has been no clarification on the price of iron ore.

State Fairgrounds
Repairs Planned:
Army Must Settle

Lansing, March 1 (AP)—The state agriculture commission will consider rehabilitation of the state fairgrounds at a joint meeting with the board of managers of state fairs in Detroit tomorrow.

Charles Figy, state agriculture director, said the two boards would inspect the fairgrounds, recently vacated by the Army, to see how much repair work is necessary before the fair could be held. The Army has not yet made any settlement for the reconditioning of the grounds, Figy said.

He said it would be impossible to decide whether a fair can be held this year until there is a settlement, but no fair could be held until the buildings are repaired.

UNION TURNS
DOWN LATEST
OFFER OF GM

PRESSURE POLICY
WILL BE NEXT
STEP OF UAW

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—Management proposals for a settlement of the 101-day Old General Motors strike were rejected this afternoon by the CIO United Automobile Workers' GM council.

Dashing hopes for an early end to the strike that already has cost 175,000 workers upward of $115,000,000 in wages, the council in a statement said:

"The conference has voted unanimously to reject the company's maximum offer to date because it failed to meet the standards set up by the recommendations of the President's fact-finding board, recommendations which were endorsed by President Truman."

Equalization Fund Asked
Details of the corporation's "maximum offer" were not disclosed. The union, however, was reported ready to accept a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour if the management would set up a one-cent an hour equalization fund, to be used to equalize differentials in wage rates among plants. General Motors was said to have made a counter-offer.

The Presidential fact-finding board last month recommended a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour (17.5 per cent) against an initial union demand for a 30 per cent increase, and the union accepted it. Management, however, rejected the recommendation.

The prolonged dispute reached the 200-man UAW-CIO General Motors council after a 43rd negotiation conference of management and union representatives failed to reach an agreement earlier today.

The council, following announcement of its rejection of the settlement proposals, recessed until 2 p. m. tomorrow. Meanwhile it directed the negotiating committee to confer with management representatives tomorrow forenoon, "to explore further possibilities of a settlement."

"Delegates to the conference," said the statement, "expressed unanimously the determination of the General Motors workers they represent to continue this strike in its full force and strength until the corporation meets the fair and reasonable terms of the recommendations of the President of the United States."

Some Issues Settled
A resolution adopted by the council said there was "no indication that the General Motors Corp. is ready to bargain honestly and in good faith."

It called on President Philip Murray of the CIO to convene the CIO executive board immediately to draw up a "policy of pressure" against General Motors.

This policy, the council proposed, should be applied against GM by all CIO unions in related industries "so as to bring an early and victorious termination" to the strike.

Before the council meeting assembled this afternoon, management and union were reported close together on questions of maintenance of union membership and vacations. Along with the wage dispute these had been major issues during the weeks of negotiation.

Detroit's Milk
Strike Settled

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—Detroit dairymen and striking CIO United Dairy Workers agreed today to settle the 10-day old milk strike here for an 18-cent an hour wage increase.

The agreement must be ratified by the union membership before the walkout is officially ended. Union officers said it would be submitted tomorrow.

Operators of the strike-bound dairies made the wage offer late this afternoon asking an immediate return to work of the 1,000 dairy workers whose walkout shut off nearly 60 per cent of Detroit's milk supply.

The offer was not contingent upon increased milk prices Carl F. Burger, dairy spokesman, said at the end of today's negotiating session with union leaders and state mediators.

John Gibson, new president of the Local 83, UDW, said the union would vote on the proposal at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Their original demand was a 20-cent hourly increase.

The dairymen's increase proposal contended that on the basis of a 48-hour week, the average wage boost would be 19½ cents an hour.

Under union estimates at $1.01 an hour, the proposed increase would give workers approximately $61 a week before deductions. The company's estimate is approximately $64 a week.

The proposal contains a no strike provision and specified that the wage increase for production workers shall be in full settlement of all union demands for everyone covered by the contract to June 1, 1947.

Burger said that precluded a possibility of a milk drivers' strike for the period of the contract.

The new wage increase will be effective upon acceptance by the union, which previously had demanded that the 23-cent wage boost be retroactive to January 1.

Brunson Gilbert, vice-president of the AFL Milk Drivers' and Dairy Employees' Union, Local 155, said the wage increases agreed upon would apply also to dairy workers covered by American Federation of Labor contracts.

Full normal milk supply for the city will begin Monday, Burger said.

Cleveland, March 1 (AP)—Ninety per cent return in balloting among Trainmen and Locomotive Engineers show sentiment running 98.3 per cent in favor of a strike against the nation's railroads if necessary to enforce wage and other demands, heads of two rail brotherhoods said today.

No formal announcement of final results in the vote will be made until March 6, President A. F. Whitney of the trainmen and Alvan Johnston, grand chief engineer of the locomotive engineers, commented at a press conference called by Whitney on the 50th anniversary of his membership in his brotherhood.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen began its strike vote Jan. 23 among its 215,000 members, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers started to poll its 78,000 members Feb. 1.

The two organizations refused arbitration of wage demands averaging 25 per cent, contending that issue must not be separated from demands for 45 changes in working rules.

Hillsdale, Mich., March 1 (AP)—George D. Schermerhorn, of Reading, Mich., today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

He served as Governor William A. Comstock's campaign manager in the latter's unsuccessful bid for re-election in 1934.

Schermerhorn is president of the Acme Chair Co., of Reading, a trustee of Hillsdale college, a former banker, and maintains a farm near Reading.

Police listed the dead man as Thomas Taylor, 36, of Detroit.

ment previously had disclosed French acceptance.

Although the U. S. proposal has not been made public, it is understood to include the recommendation that the three governments jointly:

1. Condemn the Franco government and express hope that the Spanish people will replace it shortly.

2. Declare their willingness to recognize any broadly representative interim government, once Franco is ousted, which would free all political prisoners, permit Spanish exiles to return to the country, and guarantee free elections.

The declaration is expected to emphasize the hope of the three powers that the Spanish people can rid themselves of Franco without plunging their country into a civil war like the one which brought Franco to power, with the help of Germany and Italy, in 1939.

PROTEST SENT TO RUSSIA ON
'HOSTILE ACT'

YANK AIRMAN HIT
BUT RETURNS
SAFELY

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The Navy Department tonight confirmed that Russian fighter planes fired on a United States Navy plane Feb. 20 and said that it is protesting the action to the Soviet government.

The Navy said that on Feb. 20 two Russian fighter planes overtook a United States Navy Marine seaplane near Dairen, Manchuria, and fired warning bursts for about ten minutes.

The American plane, which was not hit, returned to its base at Tsingtao, China.

This incident took place after the pilot of the Mariner, contrary to orders the Navy said, had gone inland from the coast. Disciplinary action is being taken against the pilot, the announcement added.

Previous Incident Reported

This is not the first time that a Navy plane has been fired on by Russian fighters, it was stated. A previous incident occurred last October, beyond the three mile limit of Port Arthur, and the Navy protested this "hostile act" to the Soviet government.

The October incident, which had never been mentioned by the Navy before, occurred in the same Dairen-Port Arthur area. On Oct. 15, a Mariner carrying out a routine flight passed within a mile of Port Arthur and turned south. When it was about 25 miles at sea from Dairen it was overtaken by a Russian fighter plane which made several approaches, "on at least one of which it opened fire."

The Navy Department in its protest to Russia said the firing took place beyond the three mile limit over the open sea. The Soviet Navy replied that United States planes may not approach the coast within 12 miles of Port Arthur or Dairen without obtaining permission from the Soviet military command since the defense of Port Arthur is a Russian responsibility.

Pilot "Buzzes" Base

The Navy protested in reply that it had not been informed of this 12 mile limit and that the Russian answer did not explain why an American plane had been fired upon when 25 miles at sea. No reply has been received from the Soviet, the announcement said.

Government officials received this account of the February incident:

The Navy patrol plane, piloted by a man whose name has not been made available here, was operating out of Tsingtao, China, about 10 days ago. The pilot, believing he was over a Chinese city, "buzzed" the Russian air base. Soviet fighter planes gave chase as he pulled away from the field.

Overtaking the patrol craft between Port Arthur and Chanshan Island, the Russians opened fire and shot away the American plane's aerial and made other hits. The Navy plane did not return the fire and either eluded the Russians or the Soviet fliers gave up the chase. The American plane returned safely to Tsingtao.

At the State Department, the view generally expressed is that even though he lost his bearings the American pilot had no legal right to fly over the area, which is controlled by the Russians under agreement with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Southern Pacific
Strike Is Averted

Houston, Tex., March 1 (AP)—William E. B. Chase, deputy president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced at 10:45 p. m. tonight that officials of the Southern Pacific and Brotherhood leaders had "affected an amicable settlement" of the issues involved in the threatened walkout of 3,500 engineers and trainmen on the system's 4,300 mile Texas and Louisiana lines.

Big Dodge-Chicago
Engine Plant Goes
Back To RFC Office

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. announced today that it had turned over the $174,000,000 Dodge-Chicago plant to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's office of defense plants. Over 15,400 Wright B-25 engines were manufactured there during the war.

The plant covers 6,308,431 square feet of floor space, the largest aircraft engine plant in the country, and at peak production employed 35,231 persons.

Chrysler contracted the plant from the war department on Feb. 27, 1942. The last engine was built Sept. 7, 1945.

WOMAN DRIVER CAUSES WRECK

Unidentified Automobile Owner Plus Ice Piles Up Cars

An unidentified woman driving a car across Ludington street from South Eighth to North Eighth street yesterday afternoon about 4:40 o'clock, plus a light snow covering the ice on the pavement, were the causes of a four-car accident, it was reported by police last night.

Merrill Gibbs, 1613 Second avenue north, was driving east on Ludington street and pulled to the left of the center line to avoid hitting the car going across the street. In so doing he ran into the right front of a taxi belonging to the Escanaba Taxi company and driven by Kenneth Minor of 210 1/2 North 11th street, which was going west on Ludington, damaging the taxi. He then ran into a coach belonging to Frank Wawirka of Wells, damaging the rear end of this car and pushing the coach into a sedan belonging to Henry Constantineau, Bark River, Route 2. Both the Wawirka and Constantineau cars were parked at the north curb of Ludington street. No one was injured.

Red Cross Drive Opens In County

Delta County's 14 townships are ready this morning to go out and make their 1946 Red Cross drive one of complete success, John LaMotte, general township chairman reported yesterday.

He said each township chairman has a full list of canvassers covering the areas and will make every effort to complete their township division of the drive within the time limit of 10 days. Last year Delta county, successfully raised its quota in 20 days time and this year the committee has set half that time as their goal in the fund raising campaign.

Vic Groos, has taken over the chairmanship of Wells township, the largest township in the county to be canvassed.

If you give your car proper winter care, says Automobile Club of Michigan, you will have it washed often. Salts on icy streets eat into the paint and chromium finish.

FACTORY LOOT
IN MANCHURIA
IS NOT LEGALMOSCOW IS REBUKED
FOR REMOVING JAP
MACHINERY

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 1 (AP)—In a speedy development of Secretary Byrnes' new policy of plain speaking, the state department declared today that Russia had no right under any Allied agreement to remove industrial equipment from former Japanese-held Manchuria.

The action appeared tantamount to a rebuke to Russia. A Soviet commander had announced at Mukden earlier this week that machinery had been removed in accordance with what he called a big-three agreement, though he said he could not remember when or where it was made.

The department's statement came close on the heels of Byrnes' speech in New York last night in which he declared that "no power had a right to help itself to such property prior to a reparations pact among the interested Allied nations."

Iran Is Trouble Spot

The development came in the midst of increasing uncertainties in Anglo-American relations brought about by two new disclosures concerning Soviet activities in Iran and China. Officials considered it probable that the United States would send a protest to Moscow over the Iranian situation.

These were the developments concerned:

1. Russian troops began a partial withdrawal from Iran to meet tomorrow's deadline, but Moscow announced that Red Army forces will remain in the northwestern area of the country, which has been torn by civil strife. The United States position has been that all Russian troops should be withdrawn at once. Diplomatic authorities said it was reasonable to expect blunt American objection to the Soviet policy.

2. It was learned here from official sources that two Russian fighter planes fired upon a United States Navy patrol plane off the China coast about Feb. 20 after the craft flew low over an airbase in the Soviet fortified zone at Port Arthur. None of the eight crew members was injured, though the plane was reported damaged.

Both the Iranian affair, which is considered of major importance, and the China incident, however, took on special significance in the light of Secretary of State Byrnes' speech in New York last night which was widely interpreted in Washington as laying the basis for a very firm policy in American dealings with Russia from now on.

Other Troops Out

One possibility is that if Russian forces remain for very many more weeks in any part of Iran the situation may again be brought before the United Nations Security Council, which is scheduled to open sessions in New York on March 21.

Iran's main complaint was that Russian troops had violated Iran's independence by preventing the movement of Iranian reinforcements into Azerbaijan province to put down a revolt. Russia favored the revolt which succeeded in setting up an autonomous government for Azerbaijan.

It is in this same area that Moscow announced Russian troops will remain "until the clearance of the situation." Meanwhile indications were that the British were withdrawing the last of their 3,000 troops from Iran into Iraq.

American troops were cleared out in December.

Senate Won't O. K.
Pauley, Democratic
Leaders Are Told

Washington, March 1 (AP)—A Senate official said today Senate Democratic leaders had informed Chairman Robert E. Hannegan that Edwin W. Pauley could not win Senate confirmation as undersecretary of the Navy.

The official, whose name cannot be used, made the report after Hannegan, Attorney General Tom Clark, and Sam O'Neal, publicity chief for the national committee, conferred with Senate party leaders on Capitol Hill.

He said the party officials were informed again that there was no chance for Pauley's confirmation.

Washington, March 1 (AP)—E. G. Starr, Los Angeles oil man, told senators today that Edwin W. Pauley either acted as "a spy" for major oil interests or "sold out" on independent producers by switching his stand in a 1939 California oil law referendum.

He told the Senate naval affairs committee that which that Pauley played depends on the date when the deal for sale of his Petrol Corporation's assets to Standard Oil Company of California was worked out.

The witness, president of the Universal Consolidated Oil company, testified in connection with Pauley's nomination as undersecretary of the Navy.

He brought up the previous testimony of John A. Smith, another independent west coast oil operator, that Pauley suddenly deserted the independents who had been fighting the oil control bill and began siding in with the Standard Oil Company of California and other large petroleum companies. Pauley has denied that he made a switch.

After Starr's testimony Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) adjourned the inquiry until next Wednesday amid indications that Democratic leaders expect a withdrawal move then.

Walsh announced that additional time was needed for committee members to read the record of testimony and for Pauley to prepare any statement he may wish to make then.

But the nominee, indicating he had no withdrawal plans, told reporters that he was prepared to begin presentation of his side of the case then, adding that it might take "two or three weeks."

STEEL PRODUCT
PRICES BOOSTED
Increase Of $2 To $12
A Ton To Offset New
Wage Schedule

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The OPA tonight announced price increases ranging from $2 to $12 a ton for all basic steel products.

The agency said that the new price schedule met terms of the government's Feb. 15 directive which authorized an average price hike of $5 a ton for total output of basic carbon and alloy steel products.

The higher prices, retroactive to Feb. 15 under provisions of the original directive, are being granted to offset a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour in the steel industry.

OPA said that the price adjustments meant an increase of 8.2 per cent in the average price of all steel. The new average price of all steel, both carbon and alloy, is $65.92 a ton, as compared with $60.92 previously.

OPA gave no indication of what effect the higher prices for basic steel would have on prices for consumer goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines.

It said that the degree of absorption of higher steel costs that would be required of producers and distributors of consumer goods, machinery and building materials was being worked out, and would be "announced at a later date."

More than 200 strikers, gathered outside city limits in Delaware county several blocks from the GE plant, dispersed after the order was announced over patrol car loudspeakers. They filtered quietly back to Philadelphia in groups of twos and threes.

In Bloomfield, N. J., Sheriff William M. Butler invoked the state's rarely-used riot act to disperse 1,000 pickets from a Westinghouse Electric Corporation plant. GE and Westinghouse have been strikebound since Jan. 15 in a CIO-Electrical Workers Union walkout over demands for a $2-a-day wage boost.

The sheriff led a posse of 144 officers, carrying nightsticks and tear gas to break up the picketing.

TRUMAN PUSHES
HOME BUILDINGLast-Minute Plea Made
To Save His Housing
Program

Washington, March 1 (AP)—President Truman rushed a last-minute plea to the house today in an effort to save vital phases of his housing program.

It arrived too late to affect the decision on price ceilings for existing houses. Just minutes before the house overwhelmingly voted down this feature, 154 to 68.

But the president's chief concern was the plan for $600,000,000 of government subsidies to promote the manufacture of building materials where necessary.

His message to Speaker Rayburn asserted that legislative authority is needed for these payments. Opponents have contended that the government already has the authority under wartime laws.

Mr. Truman declared that the housing measure is not a party issue. "It is an American issue."

The plan for price ceilings on existing houses which the house defeated would have permitted those who own them now to sell them for any price they could get. But that price then would become the ceiling in event of subsequent resale.

Opponents contended that such a law would drive real estate sales into the black market. Proponents, led by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), contended it was needed to halt speculation.

Before the council meeting assembled this afternoon, management and union were reported close together on questions of maintenance of union membership and vacations. Along with the wage dispute these had been major issues during the weeks of negotiation.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice-president, said the union was prepared to accept a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour if the management would set up a one-cent an hour equalization fund, to be used to equalize differentials in wage rates among plants. General Motors was said to have made a counter-offer.

The Presidential fact-finding board last month recommended a wage increase of 19 1/2 cents an hour (17.5 per cent) against an initial union demand for a 30 per cent increase, and the union accepted it. Management, however, rejected the recommendation.

The prolonged dispute reached the 200-man UAW-CIO General Motors council after a 43rd negotiation conference of management and union representatives failed to reach an agreement earlier today.

The council, following announcement of its rejection of the settlement proposals, recessed until 2 p. m. tomorrow. Meanwhile it directed the negotiating committee to confer with management representatives tomorrow forenoon, "to explore further possibilities of a settlement."

"Delegates to the conference," said the statement, "expressed unanimously the determination of the General Motors workers they represent to continue this strike in its full force and strength until the corporation meets the fair and reasonable terms of the recommendations of the President of the United States."

A resolution adopted by the council said there was "no indication that the General Motors Corp. is ready to bargain honestly and in good faith."

It called on President Philip Murray of the CIO to convene the CIO executive board immediately to draw up a "policy of pressure" against General Motors.

This policy, the council proposed, should be applied against GM by all CIO unions in related industries so as to bring an early and victorious termination to the strike.

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—Management proposals for a settlement of the 101-day old General Motors strike were rejected this afternoon by the CIO United Automobile Workers' GM council.

Dashing hopes for an early end to the strike that already has cost 175,000 workers upward of $115,000,000 in wages, the council in a statement said:

"The conference has voted unanimously to reject the company's maximum offer to date because it failed to meet the standards set up by the recommendations of the President's fact-finding board, recommendations which were endorsed by President Truman."

Equalization Fund Asked
Details of the corporation's "maximum offer" were not disclosed. Detroit's Milk
Strike Settled

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—Detroit dairymen and striking CIO United Dairy Workers agreed today to settle the 10-day old milk strike here for an 18-cent an hour wage increase.

The agreement must be ratified by the union membership before the walkout is officially ended. Union officers said it would be submitted tomorrow.

Operators of the strike-bound dairies made the wage offer late this afternoon asking an immediate return to work of the 1,000 dairy workers whose walkout shut off nearly 60 per cent of Detroit's milk supply.

The offer was not contingent upon increased milk prices Carl F. Burger, dairy spokesman, said at the end of today's negotiating session with union leaders and state mediators. John Gibson, new president of the Local 83, UDW, said the union would vote on the proposal at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Their original demand was a 20-cent hourly increase.

The dairymen's increase proposal contained that on the basis of a 48-hour week, the average wage boost would be 19 1/2 cents an hour. Under union estimates at $1.01 an hour, the proposed increase would give workers approximately $61 a week before deductions.

The company's estimate is approximately $64 a week. The proposal contains a no strike provision and specified that the wage increase for production workers shall be in full settlement of all union demands for everyone covered by the contract to June 1, 1947.

Burger said that precluded a possibility of a milk drivers' strike for the period of the contract. The new wage increase will be effective upon acceptance by the union, which previously had demanded that the 25-cent wage boost be retroactive to January 1.

Brunson Gilbert, vice-president of the AFL Milk Drivers' and Dairy Employees' Union, Local 155, said the wage increases agreed upon would apply also to dairy workers covered by American Federation of Labor contracts.

Full normal milk supply for the city will begin Monday, Burger said.

The October incident, which had never been mentioned by the Navy before, occurred in the same Dairen-Port Arthur area. On Oct. 15, a Mariner carrying out a routine flight passed within a mile of Port Arthur and turned south. When it was about 25 miles at sea from Dairen it was overtaken by a Russian fighter plane which made several approaches, "on at least one of which it opened fire."

The Navy Department in its protest to Russia said the firing took place beyond the three mile limit over the open sea. The Soviet Navy replied that United States planes may not approach the coast within 12 miles of Port Arthur or Dairen without obtaining permission from the Soviet military command since the defense of Port Arthur is a Russian responsibility.

Pilot "Buzzes" Base
The Navy protested in reply that it had not been informed of this 12 mile limit and that the Russian answer did not explain why an American plane had been fired upon when 25 miles at sea. No reply has been received from the Soviet, the announcement said.

Government officials received this account of the February incident: The Navy patrol plane, piloted by a man whose name has not been made available here, was operating out of Tsingtao, China, about 10 days ago. The pilot, believing he was over a Chinese city, "buzzed" the Russian air base. Soviet fighter planes gave chase as he pulled away from the field.

Overtaking the patrol craft between Port Arthur and Chanshan Island, the Russians opened fire and shot away the American plane's aerial and made other hits. The Navy plane did not return the fire and either eluded the Russians or the Soviet fliers gave up the chase. The American plane returned safely to Tsingtao.

At the State Department, the view generally expressed is that even though he lost his bearings the American pilot had no legal right to fly over the area, which is controlled by the Russians under agreement with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Southern Pacific
Strike Is Averted
Houston, Tex., March 1 (AP)—William E. B. Chase, deputy president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced at 10:45 p. m. tonight that officials of the Southern Pacific and Brotherhood leaders had "affected an amicable settlement" of the issues involved in the threatened walkout of 3,500 engineers and trainmen on the system's 4,300 mile Texas and Louisiana lines.

The plant covers 6,308,431 square feet of floor space, the largest aircraft engine plant in the country, and at peak production employed 33,231 persons.

Chrysler contracted the plant from the war department on Feb. 27, 1942. The last engine was built Sept. 7, 1945.

Joint Showdown With Franco Of Spain Is Mapped By 3 Nations
BY GRAHAM HOVEY
Washington, March 1 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France tonight moved steadily toward a joint showdown with Generalissimo Franco's Spanish government.

American and French officials went into huddle at the state department to work over the rough draft of a declaration on Spain to be issued jointly by the three governments. British officials are expected to join in the deliberations following receipt of additional instructions from London tomorrow.

Persons close to the conference said that a final draft should be complete shortly thereafter, for the three countries already were agreed "in principle" on what they wanted to tell the world about the Spanish dictator.

The state department today announced British acceptance "in principle" of the original United States proposal for a three-power declaration, delivered in London and Paris Monday. The department previously had disclosed French acceptance.

Although the U. S. proposal has not been made public, it is understood to include the recommendation that the three governments jointly:

1. Condemn the Franco government and express hope that the Spanish people will replace it shortly.
2. Declare their willingness to recognize any broadly representative interim government, once Franco is ousted, which would free all political prisoners, permit Spanish exiles to return to the country, and guarantee free elections.

The declaration is expected to emphasize the hope of the three powers that the Spanish people can rid themselves of Franco without plunging their country into a civil war like the one which brought Franco to power, with the help of Germany and Italy, in 1939.

PROTEST SENT

'HOSTILE ACT'YANK AIRMAN HIT
BUT RETURNS
SAFELY

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The Navy Department tonight confirmed that Russian fighter planes fired on a United States Navy plane Feb. 20 and said that it is protesting the action to the Soviet government.

The Navy said that on Feb. 20 two Russian fighter planes overtook a United States Navy Mariner seaplane near Dairen, Manchuria, and fired warning bursts for about ten minutes.

The American plane, which was not hit, returned to its base at Tsingtao, China.

This incident took place after the pilot of the Mariner, contrary to orders the Navy said, had gone inland from the coast. Disciplinary action is being taken against the pilot, the announcement added.

Previous Incident Reported
This is not the first time that a Navy plane has been fired on by Russian fighters, it was stated. A previous incident occurred last October, beyond the three mile limit of Port Arthur, and the Navy protested this "hostile act" to the Soviet government.

The October incident, which had never been mentioned by the Navy before, occurred in the same Dairen-Port Arthur area. On Oct. 15, a Mariner carrying out a routine flight passed within a mile of Port Arthur and turned south. MORE HELIUM PRODUCED NOW

New Uses Being Found For Non-Explosive Gas In U. S.

War-time production of 370 million cubic feet of helium from 1941 through 1945 by the United States Bureau of Mines was twice that of the light weight, non-explosive gas in all history to the end of 1940, notes a National Geographic Society bulletin. The speedup was a home-front achievement spurred by the alarming success of Nazi U-boats in the western Atlantic in 1942. Although prewar helium was turned out far in excess of non-military needs, four new extraction plants were built quickly after the Pearl Harbor attack to insure enough of the gas for low-boiling observation blimps, barrage and weather balloons, and wartime medical and commercial needs.

Located at Exell, Texas; Otis and Cunningham, Kansas; and Shiprock, New Mexico, the new plants supplemented the one at Amarillo, Texas, in which nine-tenths of all prewar helium had been produced. By September, 1944, with the new extraction plants partially operating, monthly production reached 14 million cubic feet. Excess production was being piped to underground storage areas; and the urgent need for new postwar uses for helium became apparent.

Discovered in Sun's Spectrum. Helium, useful to the world around, has been a United States Government monopoly. Despite constant search, other countries have found no sources that begin to compare with natural gases of the American Midwest containing 1 to 7 per cent helium.

From the Greek helios, meaning sun, where earthbound man first observed it in 1868 as a bright yellow band on the spectroscopic, the gas takes its name. Near the turn of the present century it was discovered in an earth mineral, then identified as a gas and isolated. By 1905 it had been recognized as a component of natural gas in Kansas.

Less than 100 cubic feet had been extracted by 1915. Raids by Zeppelins filled with inflammable hydrogen pointed up helium's war potentials; and extraction of about 150,000 cubic feet from natural gas in an improvised plant near Fort Worth, Texas, was a World War I achievement.

Helium, second lightest gas, weighs one-seventh as much as air. In equal quantity, hydrogen will lift 108 pounds to 100 for helium. But two events in the 1930's eased hydrogen from lighter-than-air development and put helium in its place.

In 1935 helium succeeded after hydrogen had failed, in lifting man to the still unsurpassed height of 13,711 miles above the earth, in the National Geographic Society-Army Air Corps balloon, Explorer II. In 1937, the big, hydrogen-filled German dirigible Hindenburg exploded and burned, prompting the Nazis to try to buy American helium, without success.

Actor Rooney Back From War Service

New York, March 1. (AP)—Screen actor Mickey Rooney, who has 57 discharge points and expects to be mustered out of the Army at Ft. Dix, N. J., soon, arrived aboard the troopship General Squier from Le Havre tonight after 15 months overseas.

When Rooney stepped off the ship he threw his arms around his business manager, Samuel Stiefel, and Mrs. Stiefel, of Los Angeles, and asked:

"How is my wife, how is my mother and how is my baby?" Rooney, a technician, third class, traveling with the 340th Quartermaster depot supply company, said he had never seen the baby, a boy.

Rooney wore the Bronze Star, the Victory Medal, the Good Conduct Medal, the European Theater ribbon with three combat stars for service in the Ardennes, the Rhineland and Central Germany.

New York became a city of 2,000,000 telephones in 1945.

Hogan, Mangrum Tied For Golf Lead In St. Petersburg

BY WILLIAM GOBER, JR.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., and Lloyd Mangrum, of Los Angeles, tied for the lead in the first round of the St. Petersburg $10,000 open golf tournament.

Al Bessellink, of Merchantville, N. J., an amateur who works as a bus boy in a St. Petersburg restaurant, held second place with 66.

Tied for third at 67 were Sam Byrd, of Detroit; Elsworth Wines, of Chicago; and Dick Ghezzi, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Bunched one stroke back at 68 were Byron Nelson, of Toledo, and Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., and eight others.

Hogan and Mangrum played faultless golf over fairways made sodden by rain which delayed the tournament a day. Their 64's equaled the Sunset course record.

Mangrum carded a brilliant five-under-par 30 on the back nine after taking a 34 out. He racked up eight birdies, five of them on the first nine.

Request Of Moscow For Billion Loan Lost For 6 Months

Washington, March 1. (AP)—A story of how a Russian request for a $1,000,000,000 loan was lost in U. S. government files for months was told today by the state department, which now has invited the Russians to come here and talk the application over.

A state department spokesman said the request had been filed last August, but only recently discovered by the department. He explained that it was made to the foreign economic administration, headed by Leo Crowley, one month before FEA was transferred to the state department.

Later a state department official going over FEA papers "discovered" the application. The invitation to the Russians to begin negotiations then was sent out—six months after the loan had been asked.

Plane Hangar Burns At Gobles Village; Loss Over $15,000

Gobles, Mich., Mar. 1. (AP)—Fire Chief Iustus Levesee today estimated damage at $15,000 in a fire which swept a hangar and destroyed three planes, late Thursday night.

The flames were fed by paint, oil and gasoline which exploded as William Wesler, proprietor of the Wesler Flying Service, and his brother, Willis, were wheeling two of the five planes in the hangar to safety.

It was feared for a time that the blaze, fanned by a high wind, might spread to other buildings in the village. Chief Levesee listed the cause as an overheated stove.

UNION TURNS DOWN LATEST OFFER OF GM

president and director of the union's GM division, said the report on the negotiations was made to the council by himself, President R. J. Thomas and Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes, along with members of the union's nine-man bargaining committee.

Special Labor Mediator James F. Dewey who has sought since Jan. 28 to bring peace to the largest unit of the nation's automobile industry was found in the lobby of the hotel where the council was meeting.

"No comment," he said, but added he will go through with the scheduled meeting tomorrow forenoon of the union and management conferees.

At a news conference following the council vote, UAW President Thomas asserted that the union "will not take less than 19½ cents an hour" as a wage increase. Asked whether there ever had been a tentative agreement to accept 18½ cents, he said:

"No, never."

Reuther said the union had discussed with the management acceptance of an 18½ cent an hour wage increase and the placing of one cent an hour in an equalization fund. "But GM," he said, "never made a specific, tangible proposal."

New York, March 1. (AP)—Bruce Woodcock, heavyweight boxing champion of the British empire, will come to the United States in May and it was learned authoritatively today that he will make his first appearance against Lee Oma, Detroit heavyweight, at Madison Square Garden May 13.

Tex Sullivan, manager of the Detroit cloutier who recently stopped light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich, said he had agreed to terms for the fight on that date, presumably at ten rounds.

Despite this disclosure, Promoter Mike Jacobs said he could make no official announcement of the fight until after Woodcock arrived in this country and added his name to the contract.

Budget For Detroit Largest In History, Totals $96,654,000

Detroit, March 1. (AP)—A $96,654,000 budget for 1946-47, the largest in Detroit's history, was recommended today by Mayor Edward J. Jeffries.

"I figured the people could pay it," he told a conference of city finance officers.

The new total, an increase of $11,444,000 or 13 percent over the current budget, would increase the tax rate on real and personal property about $3.50 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation over the present rate of $29.42.

A major portion of the budget increase is covered in a $6,000,000 appropriation for capital improvements which would bring the total thus earmarked to $32,500,000.

"I grant that we may have moved a little fast on our capital improvements program," the mayor told the conference, "but the city is committed to a pay-as-you-go policy on capital improvements and there is no question in my mind that to put us on a whole-sale basis would require an annual expenditure of $20,000,000."

The mayor's budget message goes to the council March 12.

RUDY CHECKS IN

Sarasota, March 1. (AP)—Rudy York, the last of the Red Sox' holdouts, checked into camp today and reported to Manager Joe Cronin that he was "virtually signed." York, however, was not permitted to participate in the Sox' three-hour drill, which stressed hitting.

Red Cross Residential Solicitation Will Begin Here Sunday

CALLS PLANNED IN AFTERNOON

Speedy Canvass Sought To Raise Local Quota

The 1946 Red Cross solicitation in the Escanaba residential section will begin Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, Loren Jenkins, residential chairman, announced yesterday and all block solicitors are expected to make the first canvass of their blocks at that time, he said.

Contributors are urged to have their contributions ready when the solicitors call to make the huge task of covering every home in Escanaba, thorough and effective with the minimum of time on the part of the workers as well as contributors.

If contributors are unable to be home Sunday night they are asked to leave their contribution with some member of the family who will be at home and the public is again reminded that the home solicitation is the only one being made this year. No solicitation is being made at the place of employment as has been the practice in other years.

A quota of $7,500 has been set for the residential division of the drive and Chairman Jenkins has completed details to make the collection of this amount of money quick and complete.

All homes not contacted in Sunday afternoon's canvass will be canvassed again Monday night, Jenkins reported.

The block solicitors have block workers sheets carrying the amounts contributed last year by employed members of families both at home and at their places of employment. As this year's quota is exactly five-eighths of last year's block solicitors should have relatively little trouble in raising their block quotas and when the canvass is complete in the 305 Escanaba city blocks, the residential quota should be raised, Jenkins stated.

Drive officials are attempting to complete the 1946 drive in 10 days and notify the area office in St. Louis of completion of the drive.

STORE ROBBED AT BARK RIVER

Garage Is Also Entered And Burglary Tried At Third Place

Two business houses at Bark River were entered early Thursday night by burglars, who were frightened away when they were discovered in an unsuccessful attempt to enter a third place, it was reported yesterday by Sheriff William E. Miron. Investigation is being conducted by the sheriff's office and the state police.

The Stephenson Market association store at Bark River was entered by breaking the glass in the front door and turning the lock from inside. Missing items from the store were ten boxes of chocolates, eight or ten boxes of shotgun shells, 12 and 16 gauge, two boxes of gum, four or five boxes of candy bars, 10 or 12 pair of brown leather gloves which are stamped "imported goat," sizes 10 and 11.

Sheriff Miron said that Al Johnson's garage and gas station also was entered and one dollar was taken from the cash register.

Omar Morey's garage at Ford River (Hyde), was also entered last night and the thieves took seven one dollar bills and $20 to $30 in silver but left the pennies in the cash register.

At 9:15 p. m. Thursday Fred A. Derocher, Bark River store proprietor, reported to the sheriff's office that someone was attempting to enter his store building.

Investigation disclosed that the burglars had removed two storm windows in an effort to enter before they were overheard by the Derochers, who live above the store, and were frightened away. The sheriff said there were the tracks in the newfallen snow which indicated that the windows had been removed by three men.

Yesterday morning officers were notified of the two other burglaries, which were not discovered until

Give Generously

THE annual Red Cross campaign got under way in Delta county yesterday, as elsewhere in the United States. The residential solicitation campaign in Escanaba will begin Sunday afternoon. The campaign has been carefully planned with the hope of completing the drive in approximately 10 days. Delta county's quota will be met in 1946, just as it has been met and exceeded in every Red Cross drive throughout the war years.

The important work of the American Red Cross in war and in peace is well known to every American civilian and certainly to every serviceman, most of whom have had the welcome hand of the Red Cross extended to them at least once during their period of military service.

The Red Cross program in war has been generously publicized but too many people still are unfamiliar with the equally important humanitarian work of the Red Cross in peace. The local chapter of the Red Cross performs work of charity in the community virtually every day, work that is seldom publicized but which is of tremendous importance in the social and economic well-being of the community. This program, like that of the Red Cross war services, is performed efficiently and fairly.

The war is over, but hundreds of thousands of American youths still are in military service and will lean heavily on the services of the American Red Cross. The war is over, but the peacetime program of the American Red Cross must go on.

Give as generously as you can to this worthy cause when the solicitors call at your home. It is an obligation that you owe to your fellowmen, at home and abroad.

Pauley Won't Quit

IT IS regrettable indeed that Edwin Pauley, nominated by President Truman as undersecretary of the navy, has not seen fit to withdraw from consideration for that important post because it is apparent now that he cannot be confirmed for the position. It is equally regrettable, of course, that President Truman retains a mulish attitude towards his nomination of Pauley and declines to withdraw the nomination.

The importance of the nomination cannot be overemphasized as the retirement of Secretary Forrestal is expected shortly and Pauley's appointment as undersecretary of the navy was designed to prepare him for eventual promotion to the top navy job. In view of the unsavory charges leveled against Pauley, it is hardly likely that there would be much public confidence in Pauley as secretary of the navy, even if the charges were unconfirmed.

The selection of an oil man to be secretary of the navy, or even undersecretary of the navy, for that matter, is not a wise choice in view of the vast oil rights now held by the navy upon behalf of the American public. Even if the man were an extremely able executive with a record of highest integrity, there would always be cause for public suspicion. This is particularly true because of the Teapot Dome scandals that followed World War I.

Youthful Crime Wave

THE juvenile crime wave swept Escanaba in recent weeks presumably has ended with the arrest of four minors, 15 to 17 years of age, who have confessed to entering and robbing a number of Escanaba homes, as well as two residences in Gladstone.

The police suspected from the start that the robberies were the work of youngsters and this theory was further solidified when some of the loot was secretly left on the steps of the police station recently. The theory that the parents of one of more of the youngsters discovered the thefts and forced the return of the loot was confirmed with the arrest of the four youths Thursday.

The arrests and confessions of the youngsters involved in these crimes represent a good stroke of sleuthing by the local police. They serve, too, to bring a sense of relief for the public. Even more important, however, the arrests are in the best interests of the youthful robbers because it should serve to set them straight early in their lives that crime doesn't pay. Further, they should serve as a reminder to all parents to keep a close check on their children, to know where they are and what they are doing. This is a duty and obligation that parents owe their children and their society.

Why the Impasse?

THE deadlock that has developed in the General Motors strike negotiations when the opposing sides were so near to agreement more than a week ago is causing considerable public apprehension and indignation as well.

Neither the striking union nor the General Motors company has given more than passing consideration to the public interest in this dispute. Of even greater disappointment is the fact that government insur-federal mediator has likewise failed to intervention through the appointment of a recognize public interest in the strike.

Negotiations are still conducted with the utmost secrecy and the public is given little information on the progress of the strike negotiations.

Obviously the main points in dispute do not embrace the wage issue, which was the cause of the strike in the first place. The company has offered 18½ cents an hour raise and the union demands 19½ cents. The difference of one cent an hour is too meager to cause the impasse that has continued through the past week.

To date more than 100 days of vital production has been lost as a result of this strike. The time has long since passed when continuance of the strike bears a resemblance to justification.

The negotiators had better closet themselves in a room and remain there until a decision is reached which will start the wheels of production going again — and soon.

SURPLUS WATER HEARING

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

Tuesday's public hearing on the application of the Michigan Northern Power Company for a 30-year lease on surplus water of St. Mary's River brought out at least one new danger.

This was the colossal claim of Manistique for practically unlimited power from the Sault, at the expense of the Sault, a claim that brought into question even the riparian rights of the owners of St. Mary's River shoreline land on which Sault residents pay taxes.

Manistique's brief pointed a knife directly at the heart of the Sault's industrial position. It calls for the slow death of the Sault and a rapid industrial rise for Manistique.

Here is the hidden threat in the Manistique position. Attorney J. Joseph Herget, representing Manistique, would garot the Michigan Northern lease by:

1. Making the lease subject to review, say in three or five years;
2. Having the federal government define the territory to be served by electricity from the Sault Rapids and
3. Provide for tapering off the amount of power to be used by the Michigan Northern.

In the first place, the Michigan Northern would be placed in the position of a party of the second part of a contract in which the executor reserved for himself right to change the terms of the contract periodically, asking greater rate of interest or greater payments. The party of the second part would be entirely at the mercy of the party of the first part. The Michigan Northern could plan no long-range expenditures in the hope of amortizing them over a period of years since there would be no assurance it could keep in operation.

It would be like granting a year-to-year franchise to build a railroad and reserving the right to take over the railroad after it is built, or like building American defense bases on British islands in the Pacific while Britain reserves the right to take them over virtually when it pleased.

In the second place, Manistique asks that the government define the territorial limits of use of Sault Rapids power. The plain intent of this request was to have the government come out and say that Escanaba and Marquette were too far for Sault power, but that Manistique was just the right distance. In effect Manistique was asking: Define the limit as extending to Manistique, no farther; bring the power to us and stop it there. For some reason Manistique has ruled out Sault's right to the power. Manistique is chiefly interested in getting for itself the very thing that the Sault has.

Thirdly, Manistique suggests that the amount of water to the Michigan Northern be tapered off slowly. This is the same thing as asking Henry Ford II to produce 10,000 automobiles a month in a mass production system geared to produce 100,000 a month and expecting Ford to price his cars the same. No mass production system could last under such strangulation. The Michigan Northern already is faced with loss of water when the new 14,000-KW plant is constructed.

Manistique apparently wants a funeral for the Sault and a wedding feast for Manistique. Now that Manistique's intentions are revealed, not only the Sault, but the REA and the three eastern counties which are in a sense natural territory for economic use of Rapids electricity, should unite strongly to end once and for all this unconscionable attempt at rape of Sault Ste. Marie.

A Wisconsin man broke the jaw of a peeping Tom. The victim will recover but we doubt if he'll ever look the same.

The average man doesn't stare at women's clothes—unless women are in them.

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Springfield: Here is a furniture ad featuring a "Credenza Buffet." I do not find "Credenza" in my dictionary and will cannot find it at the public library. Will you please explain it for us?—Mrs. C. S. G.

Answer: Credenza is an Italian word meaning "credence." An archaic meaning of credence is "safe-keeping." Hence, during the Renaissance, certain elaborate sideboards, used for keeping safe such valuables as silver plate and vessels of silver or gold, were given the name "credenza." Modern reproductions are either called "credenza buffets" or "credence (pronounced: KREE-d'ness) buffets."

South Bend: How does the kitchen sink get its name, and why do some people pronounce it "zink"?—Mrs. L. M. C.

Answer: The noun sink originally designated a place into which filth sank or was collected. Some of this meaning still points in the fact that government insur-

Washington—A thousand wheat elevators in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska and Montana are plugged, which means that they are so full of wheat they cannot take any more. The number of carloads of grain moved in January was close to the record all-time high set for the same month in 1944.

Yet Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson announces that commitments of wheat for Europe will be short 150,000 tons in February and short even more in March. With the need in the rest of the world so desperate, Secretary Anderson's announcement has a kind of calm, casual sound as though this deficit were no great concern of his. Unfortunately, it is typical of the attitude in the department of agriculture.

Last summer, policy-makers in the department were busy saying that the food shortage in Europe would surely not be as serious as some alarmists said; and that, since the estimates were certainly exaggerated, there was no need to be too worried over preparations to meet such a shortage. There were others who foresaw the present crisis but they were overruled. Certain conscientious public servants resigned because they could not endure the Pollyanna approach in the department of agriculture.

—CONSUMPTION INCREASED—
We are now witnessing the buck-passing stage, with agriculture anxious to unload the blame for current failures. It has several times been intimated that lack of transportation is the reason why shipments abroad have fallen below the promise made.

But the Association of American Railroads point to carloadings of grain of near-record volume. For January of this year, the figure was 207,158 cars, which compares with 226,825 in January of '44, the record year, and 117,396 in 1940, a year of high prosperity.

Furthermore, this is being done with 5000 fewer box-cars than were available before the war. In the Pacific northwest recently, 4000 cars of wheat were moved in 20 days. The railroad association insists that, when government grain is made available for shipment abroad, it is hauled.

What is happening then to this priceless stuff so badly needed to combat the world's hunger? There are two fairly good answers.

One, of course, is our own high rate of consumption and waste in our present boom psychology. Putting the nation on brown bread will cut this down somewhat, but not substantially.

Although it is hard to estimate its effect with any exactness, a far more serious reason would seem to be the beginning of a tendency to hold back grain in the hope of a speculative price rise. This reflects the restiveness permeating the whole economy since the bulge in the price line under the new wage-price formula.

Powerful lobbies are working intensely to break price control as it applies to farm products. Among them are lobbyists for grain-elevator men and grain speculators. Their reasoning is fairly obvious. They say that everybody else in the economy—labor and industry—is getting theirs, and so why shouldn't they? But what they are doing really, is gambling with world security.

—WARN SPECULATORS—
Make no mistake, either, they are a powerful group—the farmers and, with them, the handlers and processors of grain. During the war, when an acute shortage of corn to make alcohol actually threatened the war production program, it was possible to take only the most timid and tentative steps to end hoarding on the farms.

One target of the lobbyists is the system of government subsidies which, during the war, were used to stimulate farm production and yet make it possible to keep farm prices within bounds. Chester Bowles, who now has wartime powers as the new director of the revived office of economic stabilization, says that continuation of these subsidies is absolutely essential to price control.

He said, too, in his statement before the House Banking and Currency committee, that the prices the farmer receives went up 113 per cent during the war, which is exactly the amount they went up in World War I. But the prices he pays, including interest and taxes, have risen only 40 per cent as compared to 94 per cent in the previous war.

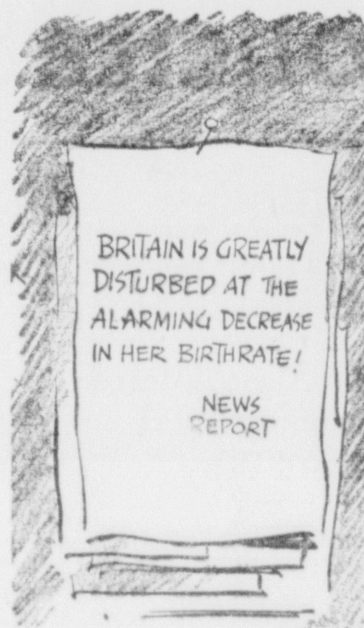

It is up to Congress to serve notice on the speculators that there will be no price rise. And it's up to Secretary Anderson to cut through the government tangle and get the wheat to the ports for shipment.

iniquity; the skum and sink of mankind; sinkholes, etc.

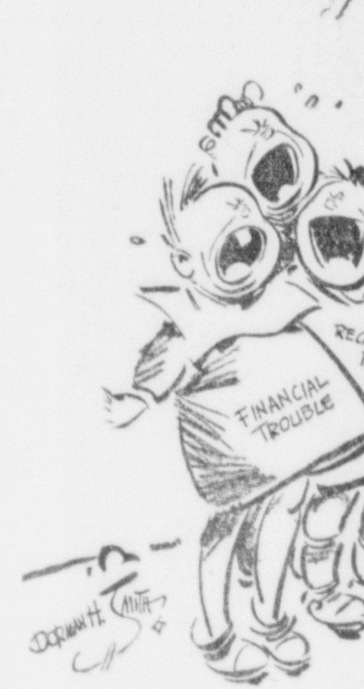

The kitchen sink is so called because it is a basin equipped with a water supply and a drain, and is used principally for the washing of food, utensils, and dishes, and disposing of the waste water and bits of refuse by flushing down the drain pipe.

The pronunciation "zink," while dialectal, is frequently heard, especially in rural communities. I can account for it only by confusion with the word zinc, since the ancestor of the modern kitchen sink was a crude basin made of soldered sheets of galvanized iron—iron coated by galvanization with a film of zinc.

Galvanized iron was often spoken of as "zinc," and early sinks were doubtless spoken of first as "zinc basins," and, later, "zincs," a pronunciation which, in dialectal usage, continued to be heard after the "zinc basin," the ugly duckling of the kitchen, had transformed itself into the white and gleaming porcelain beauty of today which washes and dries the dishes, grinds up and disposes of the kitchen waste, and does almost everything else but put out the cat and flirt with the milkman.

THE SHORT STORY—Enrollment in a course designed to teach the fundamentals of short story writing, we were one of a group of about fifteen Escanaba men and women who gathered at Carnegie Public Library Wednesday night.

The instructor is Jack Murphy of Crystal Falls, and the course is sponsored by the Adult Education program in Escanaba.

The meetings of the budding authors are held in the children's room in the basement of the library.

Arriving a little late, we found the class in session, with Mr. Murphy sitting behind a desk and rapidly reading a short story manuscript submitted by one of the students. The story, it seemed, had to do with the heart affairs of a woman business executive. Mr. Murphy was reading rapidly because there were two more short stories yet to be read and discussed. No one except the authors knew whose brain-child it was that was being exposed to public view.

—LOVE TRIUMPHANT—Mr. Murphy's reading ceased. The story was ended. He looked up, his forehead wrinkling under what the kids call a "butch" haircut.

The students took a deep breath, drew their mental knives and began dissecting the beautiful story. The result was what you might expect. In a very short time it was a beautiful corpse.

One of the students suggested that perhaps it would have been better for the plot if the hero and heroine had not ended the story in the traditional cliché.

"God forbid," said Mr. Murphy fervently, and explained that for the readable-salable magazine short story love is triumphant, always.

—MORE TRIUMPHS—Apparently the amateur authors also were aware of this rule, for the two following stories read by Mr. Murphy ended with the girl in the arms of the man where she rightfully belonged.

During the inquisition that followed each reading, the anonymous authors among the students watched their paper progeny put to the rack without once revealing their relationship to the tortured manuscripts. They even helped put the screws to the story, confident that out of the anguish would come a stronger plot, perhaps better characterization, or improved writing.

No matter how the stories were belabored, however, there was consensus that endings were right when boy got girl—or vice versa as in real life.

—THE SHARP STUDENT—One lady in the class had an ear for errors or impossibilities in fact in stories. It was she who pointed out that the heroine of one story beamed the fact that she did not know the address of her beloved, although earlier she had forgotten to send him a telegram announcing that she planned to visit him.

"How could she forget the address when she never knew it?" asked the student succinctly. And Mr. Murphy himself, speaking of another story, said he did not consider it likely that gentlemen would wear tweeds, even "impeccable tweeds," on a day as "torrid" as that described in the

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Emmet McNamara of Newberry are the parents of a son born Friday noon, according to word received here. Mrs. McNamara is the former Myrilda LaVigne of this city.

Keith Burnell entertained a group of his friends at his home, 513 Ludington street, in observance of his tenth birthday anniversary.

Mrs. William LaCasse is committee chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Lemke and Mrs. E. Ray at the meeting of the Chicago and North Western Railway Woman's club to be held tomorrow.

Robert Pryal will discuss the Upper Peninsula State Fair at the Lions club meeting at the Delta Hotel Monday evening. Gilbert Helgemo will provide the musical entertainment.

Mrs. Theodore Dugener, Sr., of 321 North 20th street is at St. Francis hospital suffering from a fractured right ankle received in a fall on an icy pavement.

20 Years Ago—1926

Train No. 102 was made up here last night instead of at Ishpeming due to the heavy snows north of Escanaba. Train No. 217, which was an hour and 50 minutes late stopped here instead of continuing north.

The Escanaba affirmative team which will debate the Neagaues negative team tomorrow at the Escanaba high school auditorium will be composed of Edward Curran, Janet Owen and Harry Erickson.

Manistique—A daughter was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John N. Forshar, 542 Oak street.

Gladstone—Miss Louise Schram was awarded the box of candy for women's high school at the Community building alleys. She bowled a total of 177.

Manistique—W. T. S. Cornell, school commissioner, can verify the amount of snow in the county having just completed a walking trip to the rural schools of the county.

—MEET MR. MURPHY—Jack Murphy is young, as we compute age, and takes justifiable pride in being a railroad man. He is also an author of short stories and has been more than moderately successful. We do not believe he is particularly proud of his ability as a writer, and would prefer folks to recognize him as the son of his father, who is also a railroad man. Railroading is in the Murphy blood.

Perhaps because of his background he is inclined to find a setting for his fiction among the men who work for the rails, although he is impartial about this, and we recall reading one story of his in Colliers about the Cornish miners.

At a previous short story class, Murphy told of his struggles with a story about a girl and a caboose—a nice red caboose and not the girl's, as Murphy carefully explained. The story, he said, had required weeks and months of work and was still unfinished. Under such circumstances, he advised, it is best to start on another story, come back to the first one later.

—LOTS OF ROOM—Murphy does not hold to the "writing is fun" school of thought. He sweats 'em out, he says.

Following the class, one of the

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Harry Truman certainly seems to have a yen for Missouri insurance men, some of them not too far removed from the Boss Pendergast bribery scandal. Insurance men seem to gravitate around him like flies around Missouri sorghum.

Latest to join the Truman forces is Adm. Sidney W. Souers, USNR, a former St. Louis insurance man, who figured in the bankruptcy and reorganization of the Missouri State Insurance company. He has just been made director of Central Intelligence, the super-duper sleuthing agency which operates directly under the White House and is charged with the all-important job of ascertaining what other nations are doing about secret war moves, including the atomic bomb.

His appointment coincides with that of another insurance man, George Allen, to be a director of the RFC. Four of Allen's companies were involved in the bribing of Harry Truman's old friend, Boss Pendergast of Kansas City.

Admiral Souers was financial vice president of the Missouri State Insurance company when it went to the wall in August 1933. The company operated in 35 states, and 250,000 policy holders supposed to be insured for over $1,000,000,000 found themselves holding almost worthless paper.

Although Souers was financial vice president, the collapse may not have been his fault. However, the interesting point in the manner in which Boss Pendergast's insurance commissioner, Emmett O'Malley (who later went to jail), reorganized the company and reinstated Souers as a vice president.

—BOSS PENDERGAST'S FRIEND—

Mr. O'Malley hastened to get himself appointed receiver, but, even before he did so, let it be known that he favored entering into a contract with a New York promoter group which had just incorporated under the name of General American Life Insurance Company. They offered $2,000,000 for the assets of the old Missouri State Life.

Thirteen different state insurance commissioners came to St. Louis to oppose O'Malley's deal. One objection was that O'Malley had not advertised for bids two weeks in advance, as required by law. Clinton O. Shepherd, actuary for Missouri State Life, testified that the new company which O'Malley was so anxious to favor would make a profit of $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 out of their $2,000,000 investment. Reluctantly, Circuit Judge Hamilton okayed the deal.

Immediately, O'Malley reinstated Souers as vice president, despite the fact that, on the face of it, his previous operations as financial vice president appeared not too successful.

O'Malley later accepted a bribe of $62,500 from a group of insurance companies in connection with the Boss Pendergast insurance scandal, and went to jail.

Souers is now in Washington in charge of one of the most important intelligence jobs in the nation.

NOTE—Souers is also a director of Aviation Corporation, of which George Allen is a director. This is a Victor Emmanuel company, and represents another link in the ever-increasing chain between this giant Wall Street financier and friends of Harry Truman.

—MRS. ROOSEVELT'S BODYGUARD—

Not much was heard about kindly ex-Senator John Townsend of Delaware who served as an alternate American delegate to the United Nations. A staunch Republican, his appointment caused a furore when announced, following which Townsend dropped almost out of sight.

One day, however, a huge crowd gathered to watch the UNO delegates file into Westminster. Many of the delegates went in two by two.

Not Soviet delegate Vyshinsky, however. The crowds noted that four burly Russian bodyguards surrounded him. Remarkable one Britisher:

"Look at Mrs. Roosevelt compared with those four Russian bodyguards around Vyshinsky. She has only one elderly gentleman guarding her."

It was ex-Senator John Townsend, long-time stalwart of the Republican National committee, but now a friendly escort of Mrs. Roosevelt.

—SECRET DOCUMENT—

The state department is sitting on a highly secret document which, if ever published, will cast significant light on the Argentine situation.

It bears FDR's initials in the right-hand corner, followed by the letters "OK," and gives the late President's blessing to the admission of Argentina as a member of the United Nations.

The memorandum, drafted by the state department, proposes American support of Argentine membership in the United Nations if (1) she signed guarantees of hemisphere security in the act of chapultepec, and (2) if she declared war on the Axis. Nelson Rockefeller, then assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin American affairs, was behind this memo which finally got FDR's approval.

In Hollywood

Hollywood, (NEA)—A true drama born years ago in an Iowa schoolhouse is rushing to a climax on the Hollywood screen.

It is a story about a high school chemistry teacher, a bashful farm girl, a copy of Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," and series of fan letters.

You know the girl now as the lovely Donna Reed of the screen. You saw her as the nurse on Bat-tan in "They Were Expendable."

Dr. Edward Tompkins is the high school teacher.

Only he isn't a school teacher anymore.

He is one of the Oak Ridge scientists who helped write history. He is technical adviser for "The Beginning or The End," a forthcoming M-G-M movie based on the development of the atomic bomb.

But if he had not once taught school in the little town of Denison, Iowa, M-G-M might not now be preparing the picture. And a girl named Donna Reed might never have become a Hollywood star.

But let's begin at the beginning of this story behind the screen story.

The Teacher Knew About Bashfulness

Edward Tompkins was chemistry teacher at the Denison, Iowa, high school in 1934. One of his new pupils was a girl named Donna Mullenger. She was a farm girl, and she looked it. She was awkward and bashful and dressed in something made over from last year. The boys teased her and the girls made fun of her clothes.

Teacher Tompkins saw what was happening. He called Donna to his office. He told her about a bashful farm boy from Winterset, Iowa, who had gone to school dressed in his father's cut-down trousers and who had suffered the same juvenile chiding from fellow students.

He told her how the boy had overcome these obstacles. He knew it could be done, he said, because he was the boy. Then, for good measure, he gave her a copy of the book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

"Maybe," he said, "it will help you."

Teacher Tompkins could not wait to see the metamorphosis of an awkward, bashful farm girl into the most popular and most beautiful girl at Denison high school. He left shortly after that talk with Donna to keep a date with a doctors degree—and destiny—at the University of California.

But he heard about it in letters from Donna, who was deeply appreciative of his interest and his advice. They corresponded regularly. She heard of his graduation, of his marriage to Barbara Harris of San Francisco. He heard that she had moved to Los Angeles, had become interested in dramatics, was seeking a film career.

He was a "War Worker" At Oak Ridge

Then one day he saw her on the screen. She was a new M-G-M star. He wrote her a fan letter.

It was postmarked from Oak Ridge, Tenn.

"I'm working in a war plant now," he said.

Donna thought it rather odd for such a brilliant mind to be just working in a war plant. The postmarked Oak Ridge meant nothing to her, or the public, then.

Then a bomb fell on Hiroshima. The story of famed scientists working for three years in secrecy at Oak Ridge hit the newspapers.

Donna read them and then she knew about the "war plant" in which her high school chemistry teacher was working. She wrote him a fan letter.

He answered with a letter wondering if there might be a movie idea in the development of the Glare is wasted light as far as our eyes are concerned, because it is light our eyes can't see to see with. In addition, it's hard on our eyes and uncomfortable, too.

To eliminate glare, have a proper shade on every bulb, whether it's a candle bulb on a dining room fixture, or the light over the laundry tubs. This proper shading does away with both kinds of glare, that from bare bulbs, and the reflected glare that results when a too-bright light is reflected in a shiny surface.

atomic bomb, a movie in which his fellow scientists could warn the world that this was "the beginning or the end."

Donna took the letter to an M-G-M producer, Sam Marx. Sam Marx took the letter to Louis B. Mayer. Sam Marx took a train for Oak Ridge, Tenn. Marx and Dr. Tompkins went to Washington for conferences with high government officials and with President Truman himself.

Cameras start rolling soon on "The Beginning or The End," with Dr. Tompkins as technical adviser.

Bread From 80 Percent Flour To Taste Like Regular Bread

Washington—I have just eaten a slice of bread made from 80 per cent flour, the kind Americans will be eating in a few weeks to save wheat for starving people in Europe.

If I had been blindfolded, I could not have told the difference between this bread and the slice I had for breakfast from a loaf bought at the grocery.

Even seeing the bread, it was hard to detect any difference. It looks like white bread. Compared with bread from the regular 70 per cent flour, its whiteness is slightly less snowy, but it is not as gray as the newsprint paper on which this story is printed.

The bread I ate was an experimental loaf baked by Dr. Lawrence Zeleny, baking technologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It was baked from 80 per cent flour which he milled on a hand-powered mill at the Department's laboratories at Beltsville, Md. He used commercial bread-making technique, and from a same formula baked a loaf of bread with 70 per cent flour for comparison. Bakers will have to use a slightly different formula, or recipe, for 80 per cent flour bread than they are now using.

Housewives may find they can use the 80 per cent flour with little or no charge in their favorite recipes. Home economists have not yet experimented with the new flour. Samples of it were on display at the Department of Agriculture here. Though not quite as snowy white and not quite as silky feeling as the 70 per cent flour on display, the difference seemed to me very slight.

Neither the flour nor the bread baked from it have any specks of bran in them.

Whether the 80 per cent flour will be enriched with vitamins and iron and when it will be on the market depend on the terms of the order, which have not yet been settled.

Army Given Money For New Hospital

Iron Mountain—General Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator at Washington, yesterday turned over to Army engineers $2,555,037 for a 250-bed general medical hospital in Iron Mountain, according to press dispatches today. The news came some time after announcement that Iron Mountain had been finally approved as the site for the hospital, following inspection here by engineers of the Veterans' Administration.

Although A. M. Chalmers, chairman of the veterans' hospital committee, was out of the city today, Don Smith, chamber of commerce secretary, who has been in close touch with the negotiations, said there was nothing to add to previous accounts.

"It has already been announced that work is scheduled to begin in the spring, and to be completed in July, 1947," the secretary said. "I know of nothing we can add to that, besides a great satisfaction in knowing that the money has now been made available, and that there seems to be no obstacle in the way of this important project."

Test Approved

Soil-tests conducted on the site—the von Platen-Fox mill property on south Stephenson—have proved satisfactory, the committee has learned. Samples of the soil were taken last fall by a Veterans' Administration engineer who carefully inspected the site and reported later, in writing, that he believed it ideal for the purpose.

Many factors entered into selection of the site, besides its geographic location. Its proximity to railroads and highways, and to the residential and business districts of Iron Mountain, were considered. Bordered on the west by highway US-2-141: within easy reach of both the Milwaukee and North Western railroads and within a few blocks of Iron Mountain's business district, the site conformed closely with specifications set forth by the Veterans' Administration.

"There is nothing to do, now, but to await the start of work," Smith concluded. "We have no information other than was announced today, or has been previously announced."

RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS MARCH 11

Quota Set For County Is $2,320, Manson To Head Drive

A marked decline in the 1946 Red Cross quota for contributions from Schoolcraft county is revealed in plans announced this week by Fred H. Hahne, chapter chairman.

Schoolcraft county's goal in the coming drive is $2,320, as compared with $9,800 asked last year—peacetime needs being much less than that required while the world was at war.

The entire county will be organized in much the same manner as has been the custom through the years, the plans being now in the making.

Charles D. Manson, city manager, who so ably engineered the recent used clothing and Infante Paralysis fund drives, has kindly consented to carry on as head of the Red Cross drive activities.

The drive will open March 11.

High School Pupils Learning British National Anthem

Students at Manistique high school have been learning a "new song." The tune is one many of them knew since they were small children, but the words are different. The song is "God Save the King."

The Canadian Soo Collegiates, a 5-year high school team from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., will play the local high school basketball team at the high school gymnasium this evening and the Manistique student body has been practicing assiduously the courtesies in keeping with the occasion. The singing of "God Save the King," and "The Maple Leaf Forever," along with the "Star Spangled Banner," will be among the courtesies shown.

Immediately before the game a color guard of members of the local post of the American Legion, will present the colors of the two nations and the National Anthems will then be sung.

A preliminary basketball game between the junior and senior teams will be played starting at 7 o'clock and the main event will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

FLIVVERS SHOW LOTS OF CLASS

Escanaba Suffers First Defeat; Reserves Win Preliminary

Kingsford, March 1 (AP)—Escanaba's hopes for an undefeated basketball season were sunk here tonight by the sharp shooting Kingsford Flivvers, who scored a decisive 39-29 victory over the Eskymos in a well played game before a capacity crowd. In the preliminary game, the Escanaba Reserves defeated Kingsford Reserves, 39 to 29.

The entire story of the game was rapped up in a sizzling third period scoring drive during which the Flivvers, hotter than an atomic bomb, scorched the Eskymos for 19 points while the visitors scored only nine. In every other frame the two teams divided scoring honors.

The teams were even at nine-all at the close of the first frame and were still tied up at 15-all at the mid-way point. Starting the third period, however, the Flivvers broke loose for three consecutive goals and spread their lead to 34-24 by the end of the period.

The Kingsford team protected its lead with a sterling defensive performance in the final quarter. Cleary and Weber, both of Kingsford, led the night's scoring with 14 and 12 points respectively.

Escanaba defeated Kingsford at the Escanaba gym earlier in the season, 29 to 22. The teams may meet again in the Menominee district tournament, where they are seeded at the top and bottom of the bracket.

The Eskymos will meet either Iron Mountain or Manistique in the semi-final round of the district basketball tournament at Menominee the night of March 15. The opponent in that game, the first tournament battle for the Eskymos in the 1946 competition, will not be either Kingsford or Menominee, the other two teams in the district tournament. The Eskymos will draw the top seeded position in the tourney and the Kingsford Flivvers will draw the bottom seeded spot. This leaves only three remaining teams and Menominee, the host, is sure to be one of the two teams that will play in the opening round Thursday night, March 14. This is because home teams are denied opening round byes.

Thus, with five teams entered in the Class B district tourney, only two teams will have to draw for positions in the bracket. They are Iron Mountain and Manistique. The first team drawn will escape the Thursday night match and will play the Eskymos Friday night. The remaining team will play Menominee Thursday night, the winner to meet Kingsford Friday night. The two semi-final winners will meet Saturday night for the district championship and for the privilege of advancing to the final tournament at Ironwood. Pairings in the Menominee tournament are planned Monday, March 4.

Successful Season Ended As Spartans Take Badgers, 56-52

East Lansing, March 1 (AP)—Michigan State college closed a successful basketball season here tonight by turning back the University of Wisconsin for the second time this season 56-52.

The victory of the Spartans was their 12th. In a 21-game season and marked the Badgers' 15th defeat in 19 games. Michigan State took a nine point lead, 33-24 at the half and never was behind. Although Wisconsin came within three points of tying the score in the final minute of play, Lanky Badger center, Bob Harlow, took scoring honors, hooping seven field goals and two free throws for 16 points while a new comer to the MSC squad, Dave Lundsten, led the Spartans with 12 markers although he saw only relief duty.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne's MSC five was never pressed after it went ahead, 16-7, midway through the first half until just before the final gun, when the Badgers drew up to within three points against the Spartans reserves. The Michigan State coach then rushed his regulars into the game and they stalled out the final 60 seconds.

By knocking in 11 points, MSC forward Sam Fortino upped his season's total to 251, the highest number of points ever scored in a single season by any Michigan State player. The Spartans 56-point total boosted their season mark to 1,125, which will stand as a new team scoring record for a single season.

Michigan Trackmen Favored To Capture Triangular Meeting

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 1 (AP)—Michigan's track team will be heavily favored in Saturday night's triangular track meet here with Notre Dame and Michigan State. The meet originally was billed as a quadrangular meet but Marquette, fourth team in the competition asked to be excused because of complications brought on by term end examinations.

Withdrawal of Marquette will deprive the meet of one featured performer, Ken Wiesner, NCAA high jump titlist, who missed by only a fraction of an inch setting a new York Fieldhouse record in his only appearance here last winter.

Wolverine Coach Ken Doherty, sending his team into its final tuneup session before defending the Western Conference championship at Chicago next week, anticipates a few good races in Saturday night's meet, but is willing to admit that his team should win handily.

Notre Dame's Bill Leonard and Michigan State's Walter Mack are expected to offer good competition in the mile and half mile runs, while Jim Murphy and Jim Kelley, of the Irish, may put up a good battle in the two mile where Michigan will be without the services of its Big Ten titlist, Charles Birdsall, as well as Charles Lauritsen, as pole vaulter, is on Navy leave, but both are expected to be available for the Big Ten title meet.

Furthermore... you will get full credit for your unused mileage... toward the purchase price of your New Generals.

You will get delivery of the New General Tire... the new tire already proved to out-perform any tire ever built.

Come in and get the details... Come in TODAY to make sure of getting your New Generals early!

Top Ski Riders Arrive For Iron Mountain Tournament

Iron Mountain, Mich., March 1 (AP)—Two of the country's leading ski riders, Arthur Devlin and Merrill Barber, who have been battling it out for honors in the tournament circuit this year, will meet again Sunday on the world's highest artificial ski slide at Pine Mountain.

Devlin, American amateur champion and ace of the Lake Placid, N. Y., Sno-Birds Ski Club, and Barber, unattached rider from Brattleboro, Vt., flew here from New York City. They were the first contestants to arrive for the pre-tournament workouts on the 421-foot Pine Mountain ski way, where the late Toger Tinkle set an official world's record of 289 feet in 1942.

More than 100 riders are expected to compete in the tourney. Class A entries include a 15-man delegation from Ishpeming, Mich., led by Walter and Roy Bietila. Ellsworth Mitchell and James Lawson, and a group of 20 riders from Ironwood, Mich., led by Ted Zoberisk, Earl Minkin and Nick Heikilla.

John Zoberisk, Ironwood, and Ralph Thorsen, Iron Mountain-Kingsford, who established the North American Class B ski record of 253 feet in 1942, will be back trying to better that mark. Also in Class B will be Ralph Bietila of Ishpeming, who chalked up the Class C mark of 261 feet the same year. Leonard Bietila, who set a senior mark of 238 feet, will not compete.

Negro Player Not On Hand Yet For Dodgers Workouts

BY JACK HAND

Sanford, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Jackie Robinson was among the missing today as the Montreal Royals held their first spring workout in the midst of graduation day exercises at Rickey university, the Brooklyn Dodgers' baseball school.

Many of the Montreal players and the 155 assorted athletes, mostly ex-GIs, who have been playing daily doubleheaders and attending lectures in fundamentals since Feb. 1, will be assigned to Montreal and St. Paul, the two teams which will share the premises starting tomorrow.

President Branch Rickey, of the Dodgers, reported briefly on the celebrated Robinson case saying, "I heard by bad weather in the vicinity of New Orleans. It is my expectation that he will arrive here tomorrow noon, possibly in time for the morning workout."

There was considerable interest in Robinson's arrival among the newspapermen and photographers. If Robinson, the first negro to get a chance in modern organized baseball, can make the grade, others will follow. Robinson was a brilliant shortstop, football and basketball star at U.S.L.A. and played pro ball in the negro baseball league.

While the scribes awaited Robinson's arrival, the athletes had a busy day, competing in running races for the camp championship and running through their final courses in the art of sliding, hitting behind the runner, run-down plays and bunting.

Although the school will be continued on a moderate scale with small personnel for another week, today was the big finale. It brought to a close one of the most interesting and important phases of baseball's reconversion problem.

As Rickey told the boys in closing, "any boy who didn't learn something here, must be a very dumb boy. For the first time in my experience I can criticize no one for failing to apply himself religiously. It was a most successful experiment."

Houghton Tech Six Upsets U. of M., 5-4

Houghton, Mich., March 1 (AP)—Michigan Tech's hockey team turned in one of the major upsets of the collegiate season tonight as it walloped the University of Michigan sextette 5 to 4.

The Huskies sailed into a three goal lead in the opening period and spent the rest of the game protecting the margin. The Wolverines, claimants to the Big Ten championship, meet Tech here again Saturday night.

TROJANS LOSE CLOSE BATTLE

Visitors Put On Heat With Strong Scoring Finish

The St. Joseph Trojans lost a scorcher to Baraga of Marquette here last night, 33 to 30, after knotting the score at 29-all at the four-minute intermission in the fourth period.

McCormick, gangling Marquette center, pivoted two quick buckets through the hoop as soon as play was resumed following the intermission and that was the ball game. McCormick scored 16 points to win scoring honors for the night.

Baraga broke into the lead in the second period and held a 15-10 advantage at half time, but the Trojans narrowed this margin to 27-24 at the third quarter stop and then went on to tie the game at 29-all in the first four minutes of the final period.

In Memoriam

In loving but sad memory of our dear son and brother, Harold J. St.
Ours, who was killed in action in Italy, two years ago today, March 2, 1944.

No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have been so well.
Of the grief that is borne in silence,
For our son and brother we loved
so well.
More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But the little know the sorrow,
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed by his parents,
MR. AND MRS. JOHN ST. OURS
AND FAMILY,
Fayette, Mich.

5531-61-11

In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Frank L. Trombley, who passed away two years ago today.

Ever since the day you left us
Life has never been the same;
Our hearts are with you Dad dear,
Our tears shed not in vain.
They say time heals a broken heart,
But no, that is not true,
Two years ago you left us,
Our hearts are still with you.

Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren.

Old Brewery Now Open For Tennant

William Plansky, local manager for the Pauly & Pauly Cheese company at Manitowoc, yesterday said that the former brewery company property in the 1500 block, Ludington, is not to be immediately developed for use by the company and is open for occupancy by a tenant.

The property was purchased by Pauly & Pauly from the city recently for $9,700. Because of the present unsettled condition in the cheese market, Plansky said the building will not be utilized immediately by the company.

Plansky added that the building will be open for occupancy by any industry, business, or for warehouse or dry storage use.

WASHINGTON IS SCIENCE CENTER

Technical Developments
Broad In Nation's Capital

Washington, March 1—Forty of the nation's outstanding high-school-age scientists who arrived here today for first sessions of the Science Talent Institute and to compete for $11,000 in Westinghouse Science Scholarships are already learning that Washington is the center of scientific work in the United States as well as the political capital.

In addition to attending sessions of the Institute, where they will hear more than a dozen of the nation's leading scientists, these winners of the Fifth Annual Science Talent Search are scheduled to see many of America's foremost laboratories and the headquarters of many famous scientific organizations.

The country's official clock at the Naval Observatory, the National Zoological Park, the Navy's Special Devices Division, the National Bureau of Standards and the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of Washington with its 60-inch atom-smashing cyclotron are among the "sights" to be seen by these science-minded visitors. A short trip outside of Washington will take the young scientists to the National Naval Medical Center and the National Institute of Health, both at Bethesda, Md., and to the Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md.

First Telegraph Message
Washington's claim to the title of Science Capital of the United States is not based solely on its being the seat of government, with countless federal agencies contributing to the various fields of science. Many of the nation's most important private scientific organizations are located here.

Add to its scientific laboratories and libraries, Washington has been the site of many important scientific developments.

A little-told but all-important incident that led to research developing the atomic bomb took place at George Washington University in the capital city. A rather routine conference on atomic physics was under way Jan. 26, 1939, when a just-arrived copy of a German science journal was presented to the meeting by a representative of Science Service. This journal, containing the now-famous Hahn-Strassmann paper on uranium experiments, opened the road to American research that was climaxed more than six years later with the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Through the years, many important scientific developments have been made in Washington, but none so famous as Samuel F. B. Morse's first telegraph message sent from the Capitol building, May 24, 1844. Before Morse, legend has it that Robert Fulton experimented with models of steamboats in Rock Creek in the capital city.

Planned as the political capital of the country, Washington has truly earned the right to call itself the Science Capital of America.

Notify Taxpayers Of Delinquencies

About 300 letters have been mailed to taxpayers in the city of Escanaba notifying them that they have until March 15 to pay taxes before the city makes its delinquent returns to the county treasurer, it was reported yesterday by City Treasurer A. J. Manley.

The letters are sent as reminder in cases of oversight. The city treasurer will accept payment of these taxes at the city hall to March 15, after which time payment must be made at the courthouse where additional interest will be charged.

Inventory Of Jobs In Michigan At Local USES Office

J. M. Damitz, manager of the local U. S. Employment Service, announced yesterday that a statewide inventory is now available with current information on job opportunities throughout the state. The inventory job is in addition to the local job development campaign to solicit job openings to be filled by returning veterans and other unemployed individuals.

The statewide inventory is received bi-weekly and the most recent inventory listed approximately 1000 openings. The openings are for professional, clerical, skilled, and semi-skilled workers, and includes such positions as accountants, engineers, draftsmen, stenographers, general office workers, tool makers, electrical repairmen, patternmakers, auto mechanics and many other positions.

The Employment service is presently looking for qualified card punch operators, typists, stenographers, and statistical clerks who are interested in civil service appointments at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Damitz went on to say that although the office is primarily concerned in serving local employers, it also has the responsibility to all job seekers to provide complete information on current and anticipated job opportunities, not only in the local community, but in all other areas. Although there are a few unfilled openings in the local area, the selection is very limited.

It is hoped that by means of this job inventory the United States Employment Service can better assist workers in finding employment for which they are best qualified. Any individuals interested in these out-of-town openings should contact the local employment office at 1323 Ludington street for further details.
